BROADCAST 1983

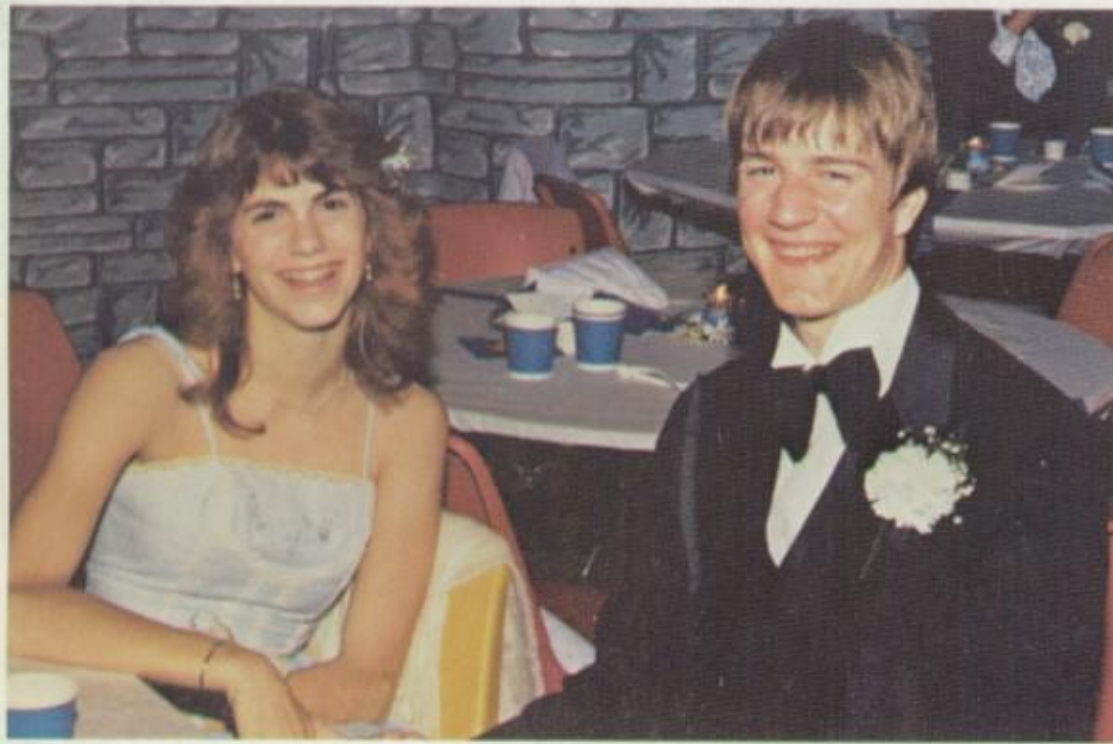

Franklin High School revealed a wide variety of talent in the 1983 Broadcast. The theme was "Broadcast Goes To Vaudeville," and the emcees were Derek Stewart, Lynn Shingledecker, Missy Burchfield, and Rob Mays. Directors for the show were Edwin W. Frye and Roland F. Davis.

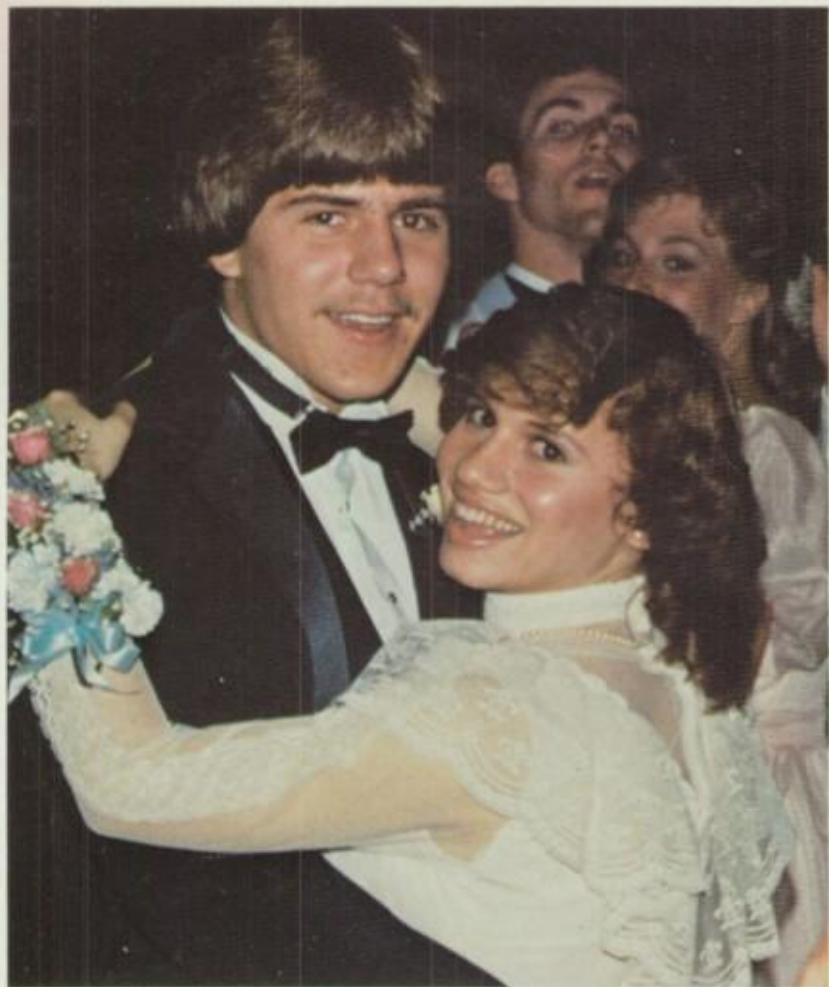

PROM 1983

Homecoming weekend began early Friday evening with a spirited pep rally and bonfire in the park sponsored by the cheerleaders. The annual Homecoming parade through downtown was held Saturday morning followed by the football game against our bitter river rat rivals, Oil City. During the half-time ceremonies, the crowd met the Homecoming court and saw the crowning of this year's queen Michelle Sherman escorted by Chris Hanna. Those in her court were Jennifer Bass, Willy White, Jamie Megeath, Tom Bak, Maja Weber, Randy Burton, Angela Bastidas, Rod Capozzi, Lisa Allen, Chris Trentini, Kim Kockler, Scott Beightol, Tracy Weber, and Ken Hreha along with flower girl Keeley Hancox and ring bearer Rand Kirtland. Our Knights were victorious with a win of 10 to 3. That evening the Homecoming Dance concluded the weekend festivities.

DAYS OF THE KNIGHTS

This is the 70th issue of the Franklin High School yearbook. Over the years the name has changed from the Omnibus, to the Echo, and to the present Franklinite. Not only has the name varied, but the contents have also diversified.

Under the supervision of Ida Cardamone and Margaret Feldman in 1963, many improvements were made to the book. The addition of color and the use of matte paper were the most important changes. In an attempt to create more space, the senior index was placed at the end of the book instead of under the pictures, and the class will was discontinued. The increased space produced by these changes provided for more copy and candid photos in the larger book. The spring supplement, or pamphlet of spring activities and sports, was added. This supplement was included in the price of the yearbook, but was designed by the staff after the spring activities were completed.

Taking over supervision in 1975, Mike Eichholtz helped to improve the book once again. More candid photos and color photos were added, along with collage pages. Also, during this time, the supplement was discontinued and the spring activities were placed in the book the following year. Throughout, the book was more symmetric and artistic once these improvements were made.

At the present time, the yearbook is being supervised by Carol Orr. The color pages have been doubled from eight to sixteen, more copy has been added, and this year the cover design was created by our own staff artist.

The yearbook supervisor has a big job with a lot of responsibility. The feeling of the supervisor can possibly be understood by a statement made by Mike Eichholtz. He said, "Although frustrating at times, having the yearbook was an educational, rewarding, experience because you are able to see the fruits of your labor."

In 1954, the student body, the athletes, and coaches of Franklin High School decided it was time to choose a new mascot. From 1903 to 1954, we were known as the Nursery of Great Men. This name was chosen with good intention, because many of our athletes excelled in post-high school sports and became "Great Men," but the result of the name was another story. Opposing teams shortened the name to simply "Nursery", which suggested children who were easily defeated. F.H.S. became infamous because of this unique name.

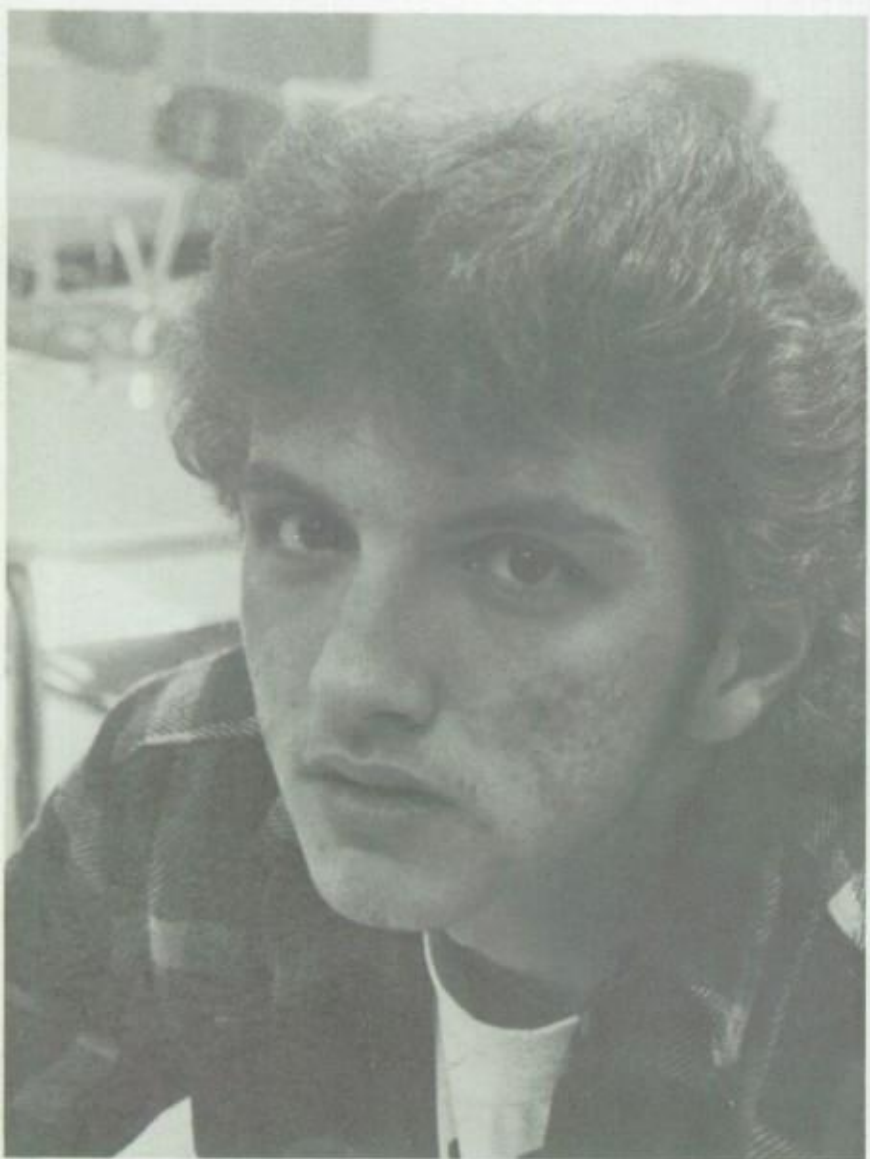

In 1954, the Student Council, with the aid of Coach Bob Flath, held a contest in which all students voted on their favorite mascot. The choices were narrowed down to three: Knights, Lions, and Falcons. A second voting was held and, of course, the Knight was chosen as our mascot. Thus, the Nursery grew into the mighty Knights that we are today.

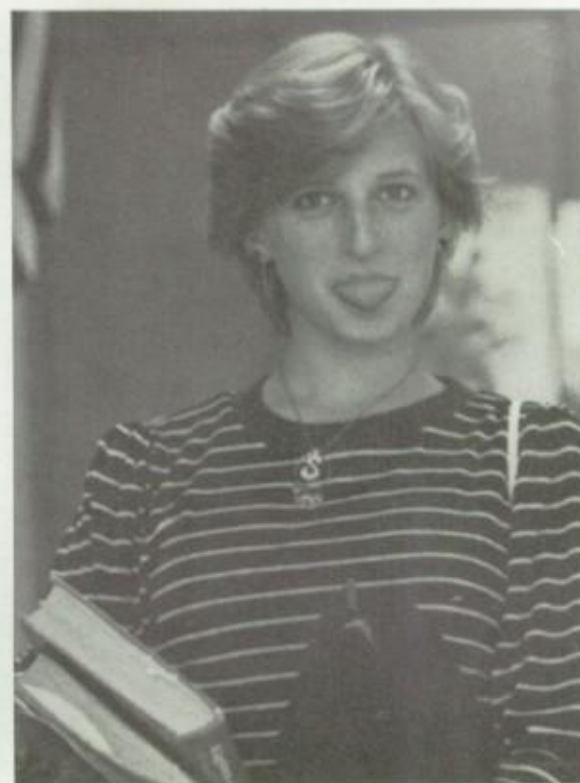

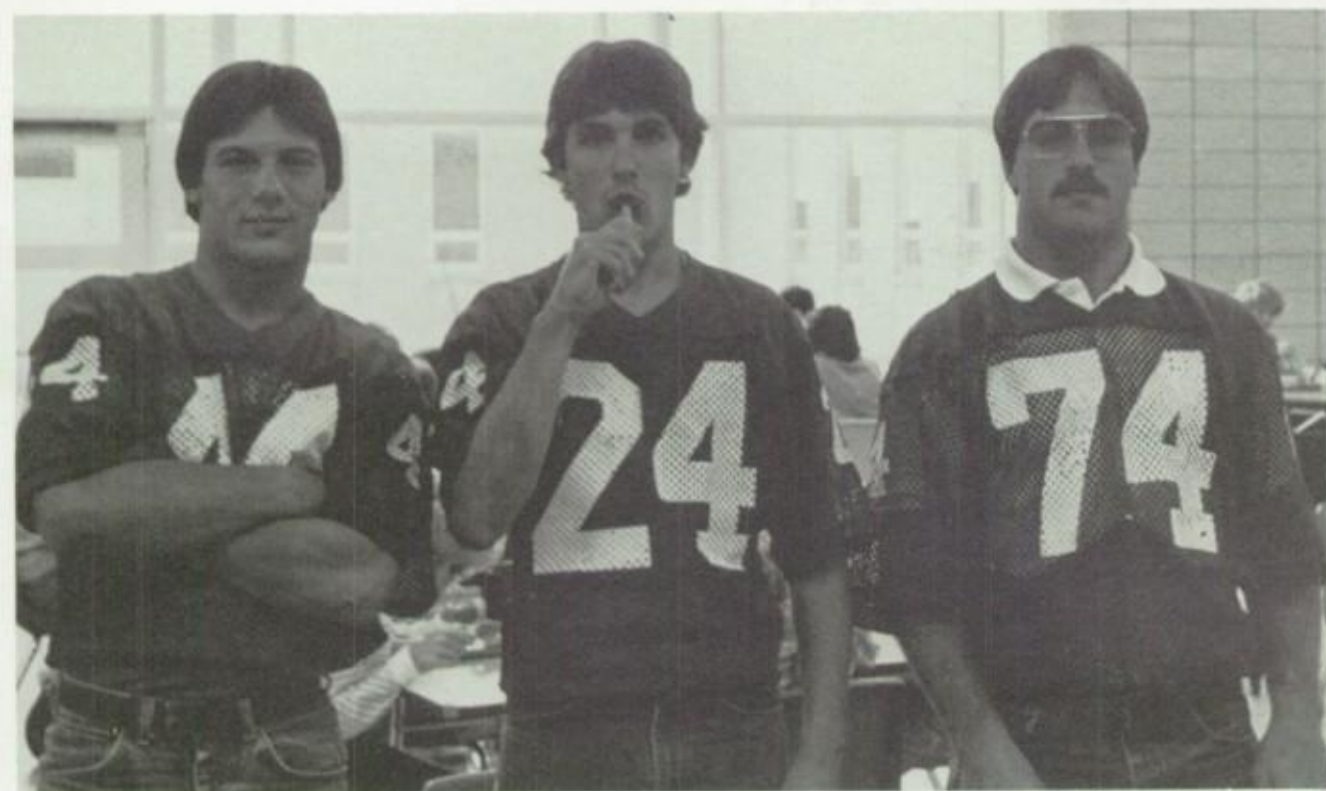

Just when you're beginning to think pretty well of people, you run across somebody who puts sugar on sliced tomatoes.

The meaning of life is that nobody knows the meaning of life. We are not put here to have a good time and that's what throws most of us, that sense that we all have an inalienable right to have a good time.
Woody Allen

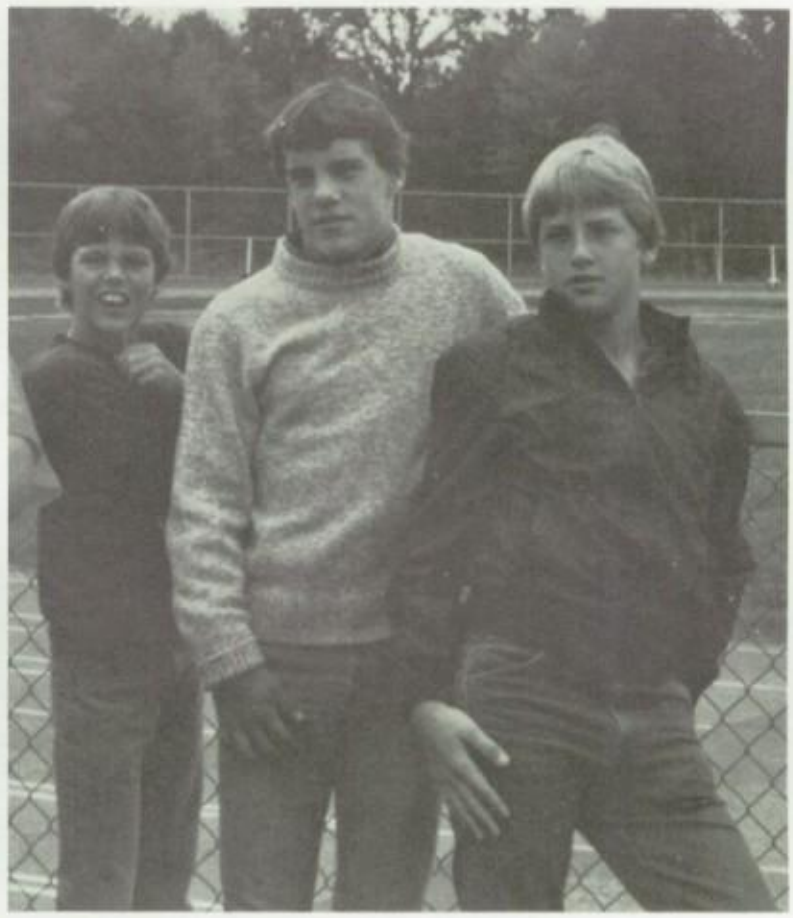

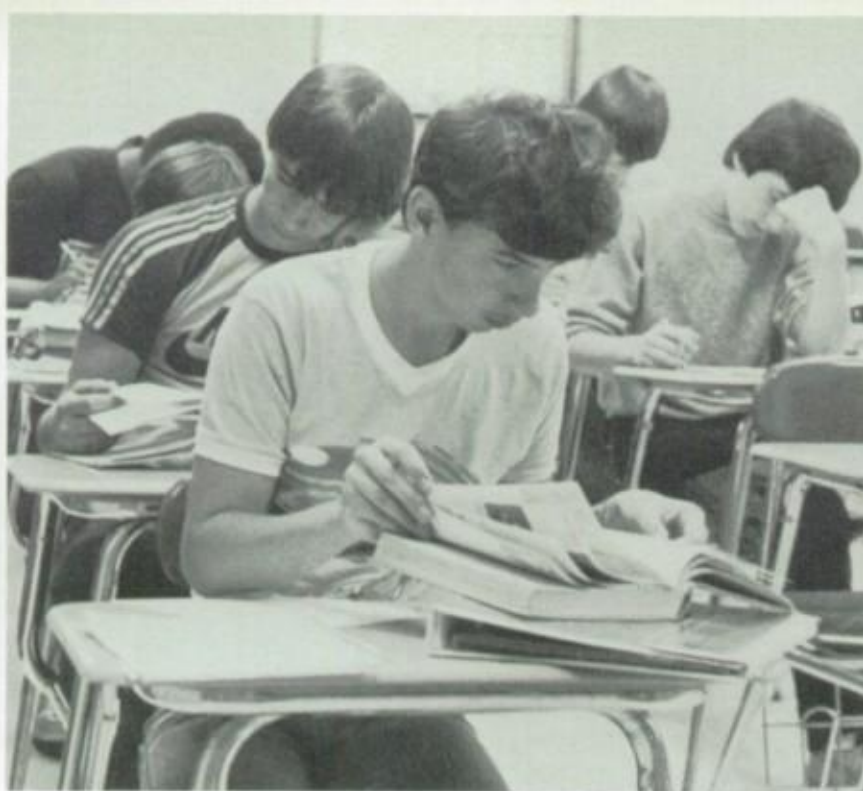

Do not take life too seriously — you will never get out of it alive.

Kiss today good-bye

(Twain)

We should all be concerned about the future because we will have to spend the rest of our lives there.

(Kettering)

Grasp each moment and live it to the fullest extent,
For soon it fades into only a memory
Which in time is all that bridges the past and the future.

The time has come
for me to move on,
but in my mind those special times
live on and on.
The memories of good times that flew by have brought me happiness
that I'll never forget.

I had a dream about reality. It was such a relief to wake up.

(Lec)

Tomorrow is another day
With all its surprise awaiting,
And sometimes not even our wildest dreams
Will tell us what tomorrows creating.

(Angell)

Today is one day short of the future, one day away from the past, and is the best day we have.

Time it was and what a time it was
It was a time of innocence
A time of confidences
Long ago it must be
I have a photograph
Preserve your memory
That's all that's left me

(Simon & Garfunkel)

Here's to the songs we used to sing, and here's to the times we used to know. It's hard to hold them in our arms again, and it's hard to let them go.

The world knows no finer.
(Old German Proverb)

All you need in life is ignorance and confidence;
then success is sure.

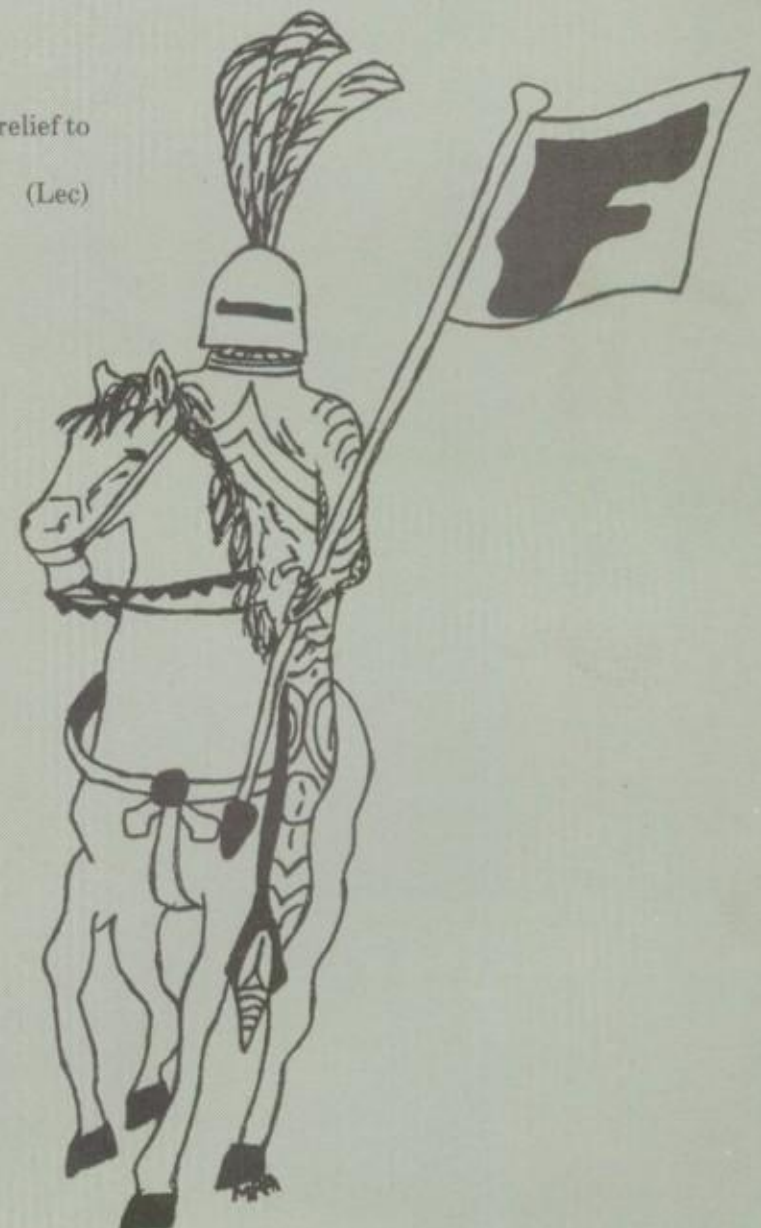

(Twain)

Looking back
In future years,
Seeing joyous expressions
Then parting tears,
Love and kindness
Friends so dear
These are the images
Of this year.

Never look behind you. Something may be gaining on you.

(Paige)

How swiftly time flies by.
It's here only to flash right by us.
Grasp it!
Live now
Because it will soon be gone.

On behalf of the Senior Class of 1984, I would like to give special thanks to Mr. Harry Miller and Mr. Peter Greene for their guidance our Junior and Senior years. With their help we had a very successful magazine sale and an "Evening Under the Stars" to remember. Our appreciation is also extended to them for their assistance to our class through graduation day and other senior activities.

After graduation, and as we go our separate ways, I hope every senior remembers Franklin High School and the memories we had here. There have been so many good times — football, basketball, wrestling, plays, Broadcasts, dances . . . There have also been the rough times — the big exams, disagreements with friends, and the end of the beginning of our life.

As we leave Franklin High, I wish the best of luck to each and every class member and hope to see everyone at our first class reunion.

Tracy Weber
Class President

L-R Laura Stallone, Vice President; Jennifer Bass, Secretary; Lisa Allen, Treasurer; Tracy Weber, President

These 1984 Franklin High School seniors ranked among the top 50,000 of over one million students who entered the 1982 Merit Program: Michelle Adams, Rusty Coast, Michelle Deligiannis, Daniel Kovacs, Lisa Shaw and Matt Sibley. They are commended students for their 1982 PSAT/NMSQT scores, and Dan Kovacs was also named as a semi-finalist with a score in the top one-third of the 50,000 high scorers. Our school and faculty have reason to be proud of these six students for making this year the most successful in Franklin's history.

1984 EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Angela Bastidas

Angela Bastidas, from Pasto, Colombia, has found that the American way of life is very different from her native Colombian culture. "Everything is different here," she says, placing strong emphasis on the word everything. Angela is living with Denise and Dwayne Burk and their family in Clintonville. Her home town of Pasto has a population of 300,000 and it has been quite an adjustment for her to live in a small town. Earlier in the year, Angela went on a camping trip to Marionville. She enjoyed it very much, as she had an opportunity to be with other exchange students from all over the world. Angela would like to visit New York City in the spring.

Anders Lassen is from Esberg, Denmark. He is being sponsored by the Rotary Club and is living with Paula McKissick and her family. Anders, like Maja, has traveled throughout much of Europe and would like to visit some nearby states in the spring. Commenting on our school, he says, "We have more responsibility for our own work in Denmark." Anders has found that our school is easier in comparison to his and is doing very well here. He is surprised at how close American families are and how much we go to church. Anders has adjusted well to living in the United States and enjoys living with the McKissicks.

Anders Lassen

Maja Weber

Maja Weber, from Hamburg, Germany, is living with Kristi Yeager and her family. She has decided that she really enjoys living in her new home. "It's so much fun living there," she says exuberantly. She has three American sisters and one American brother. The larger family is very pleasing to her. Maja has visited many countries in Europe and would like to visit Florida in the spring while still in the States. Hamburg, being the capital city of Germany, has a much larger population than Franklin. Maja has also faced the same problems Angela has faced adjusting to the small town. Maja is a very pleasant and outgoing person who enjoys being with people.

Class Advisors' Letter

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to serve as advisors for this spirited group of individuals. The class of '84 has a long list of accomplishments that have enriched the life of our school: these accomplishments are a credit to each person who helped achieve them.

You leave FHS in difficult times, but these are also times of exciting change. Many of you will face struggles with apparently enormous obstacles. Jobs may be hard to find; your goals may be difficult to reach. Friendships will be lost over time and distance. Keep love and respect for yourself and the others around you; plow on with faith and determination. We wish you the best of luck. When you've made your success, we will be proud to say we knew you when.

The FHS Student Council has been more active in our school for the last two years. This was due to more cooperative advisors, energetic officers, and, most of all, spirited and hard working members.

The student council sponsored the Homecoming Dance, student dances, and pep rallies this year. Some new Christmas projects taken on by the council included a very successful candy cane sale; donation of toys to the needy children; and decorating the halls, faculty lounge and the Christmas trees in the courtyard. Other projects were music in the cafeteria, announcements read over the loudspeaker, Spirit Week, and a Kiss the Pig contest.

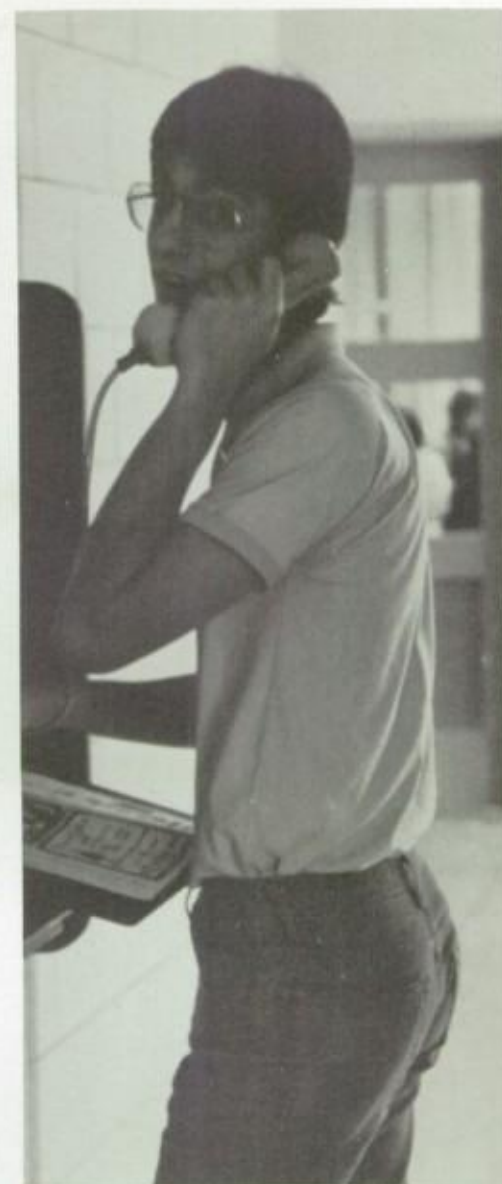

The activities planned by the student council have added to the spirit of our school, and we thank them for their efforts on behalf of the student body.

B&B PLAYERS

Advisors: Mr. Eichholtz and Mr. Shilling

B & B Players is a theatrical organization which presents and performs song and dance numbers primarily from Broadway shows. The group was formed in 1979 under the direction of Michael Eichholtz and was later taken over by Al Shilling. This year the two talented advisors became co-directors of the group, and the result was fantastic.

B & B's major effort this year was the show, Godspell. It was performed in Cabaret style, and standing ovations were a familiar sight to the cast and crew.

Christmas time at Franklin High School was celebrated in a variety of different ways. The Student Council held a Christmas tree competition, and each class decorated a tree. The teachers voted for the best tree, and the senior class won the competition. Their prize was admission for all seniors to one dance at half price.

The highlight of Christmas time at F.H.S. was the Christmas Dance sponsored by the sophomore class.

The decorations were elaborate, and Terry Grimes was crowned Christmas Queen of 1983. The evening was completed with dancing and a visit from Santa and Mrs. Claus.

SPIRIT

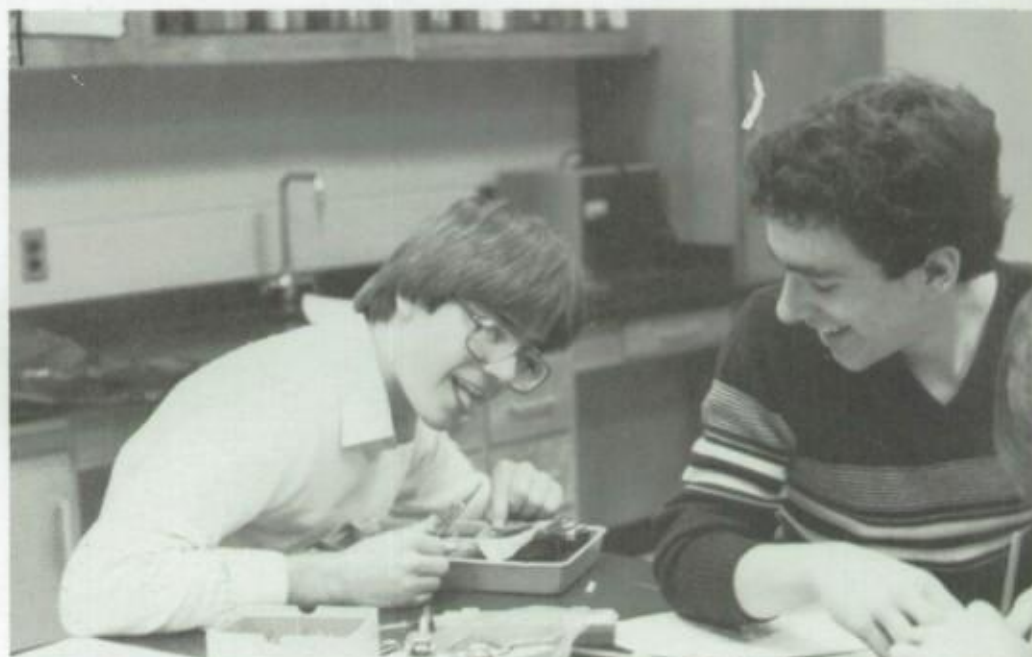

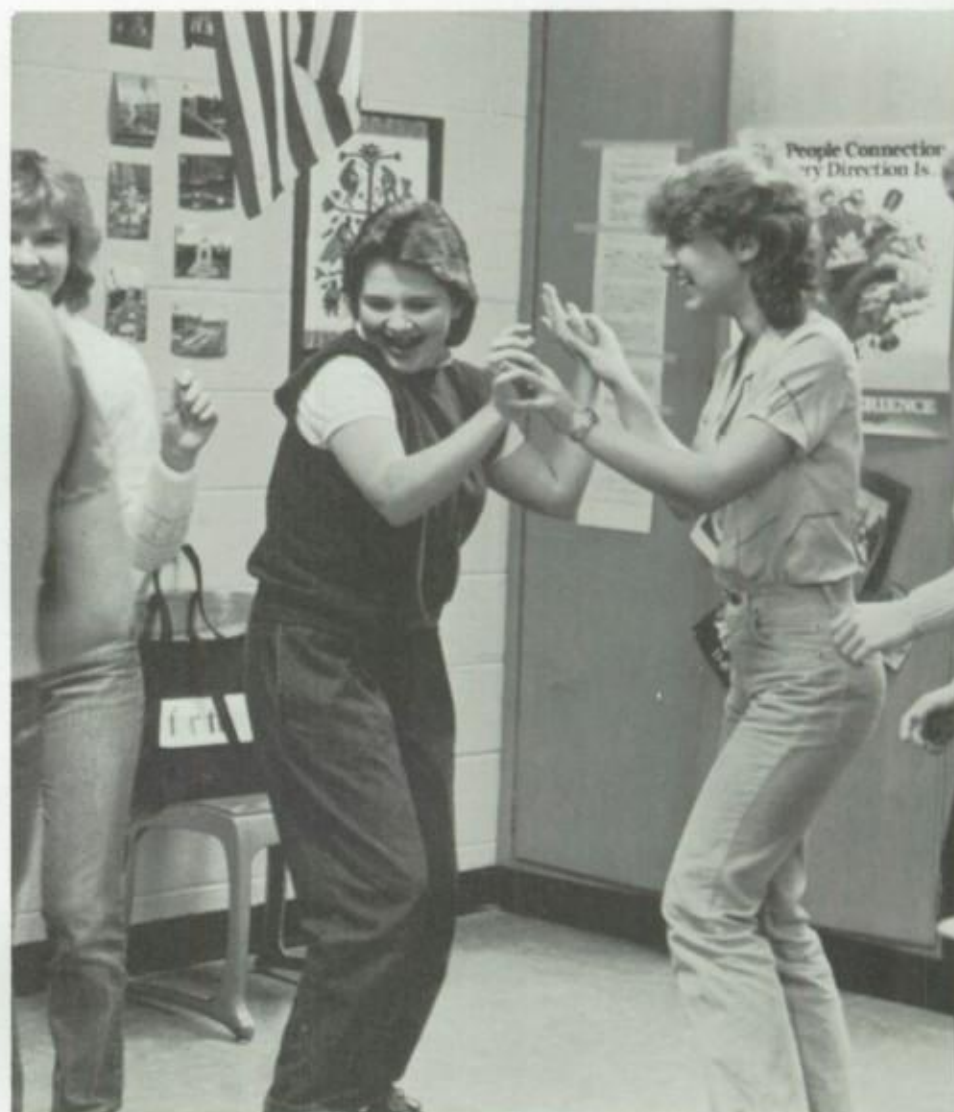

WEEK

During the week of February 6-10, F.H.S. school spirit was revived once again by our annual Spirit Week. It was sponsored by Student Council and was celebrated in the following manner: Monday — Old Clothes Day, Tuesday — Dress-Up Day, Wednesday — Hat Day, Thursday — Sweats Day, and Friday finished off the week with Red and Black Day. A pep assembly held at the end of this active week was highlighted by a kiss-the-pig contest. During the week, each senior captain's name was put on a jar into which students donated money. The boy and girl whose jars brought in the most money were the "winners" and won the prize of kissing the very ugly and gross pig in front of the entire student body and faculty at the pep rally. After a close race the lucky winners were determined — willing Randy Lynch and reluctant Denise Long, and, by student demand, Tammy Bice. Later that evening our basketball team triumphed over Franklin's biggest rival, Oil City, with a score of 67-58.

Vo-Tech

The Venango County Area Vocational-Technical School was established in 1968 with the following school districts participating: Cranberry, Forest County, Franklin, Oil City, Titusville, Valley Grove, and Venango Christian High School. There were 209 students from Franklin High School attending during the 1983-1984 school year. Among the many areas offered at Vo-Tech, the most popular are Food Preparation and Cosmetology. All students who wish to attend Vo-Tech must fill out an application. Their application, grades, and absences are received before admission is offered to the school. If a student's grades and academic work are acceptable, and a job is available, the student may work outside the school and still receive credit for his school work.

American students read only what they must to pass, or what the professors chose. Otherwise they are totally dedicated to television, to baseball and to football.

I hate Monday. It is a crabbed, nasty, overcooked, strangled sort of day, all out of balance, like a fool trying to stand on one leg.

The horror of getting up is unparalleled, and I am filled with amazement every morning when I find that I have done it.

A lot of today's frustration is caused by a surplus of simple answers, coupled with a tremendous shortage of simple problems.

(Sweeney)

There is one thing to be said for ignorance — it sure causes a lot of interesting arguments.

The founding fathers in their wisdom decided that children were an unnatural strain on parents. So they provided jails called schools, equipped with tortures called education. School is where you go between when your parents can't take you and industry can't take you.

(Updike)

There is only one thing in the world worse than being talked about, and that is not being talked about.

(Bonaparte)

Be yourself —
You're an individual.
Don't conform to people's ideas.
Be what you want whenever you want,
As long as it's the real you.
Don't worry what others think or say.
Be yourself.
Be happy.

Students who store themselves so amply with literature or science, that no room is left for determining the respective relations which exist between their acquisitions, one by one, are rather said to load their minds than to enlarge them.

DUELS

Football plays are like accounting problems. They baffle you at first, but once you've learned the system, they're easy.

(Jones)

You can intimidate an opponent, disrupt his equanimity, destroy his confidence, shatter his nerves, and make him fly into a blind rage by the way you keep score.

(Lardner)

Tennis isn't a matter of life and death — it's more important than that.

Football — a sport that bears the same relation to education that bullfighting does to agriculture.

(Hubbard)

Be bold. If you're going to make an error, make a doozy, and don't be afraid to hit the ball.

(King)

What else is there to life but golf and girls?

(Colbert)

The baseball mind is a jewel — a stone of special beauty, rare value, and extreme hardness. It resists change as a diamond resists erosion.

(Smith)

The race is not always to the swift, but to those who keep running.

The quality of our expectations determines the quality of our actions.

(Godin)

... women are carrying a new attitude. They've cast aside the old stereotypes, they don't believe you have to be ugly or have big muscles to play sports.

(Johnson)

'The game,' said he, 'is never lost till won.'

(Crabbe)

Have you ever reached as far as you thought you could, been really satisfied and found out it wasn't enough?

(Sperry)

Losses are always a relief. They take a great burden off me, make me feel more normal. If I win several tournaments in a row, I get so confident I'm in a cloud. A loss gets me eager again.

(Everet)

A successful coach is one who is still coaching.

The need for exercise is a modern superstition, invented by people who ate too much, and had nothing to think about.

(Santayana)

Golf is a good walk spoiled.

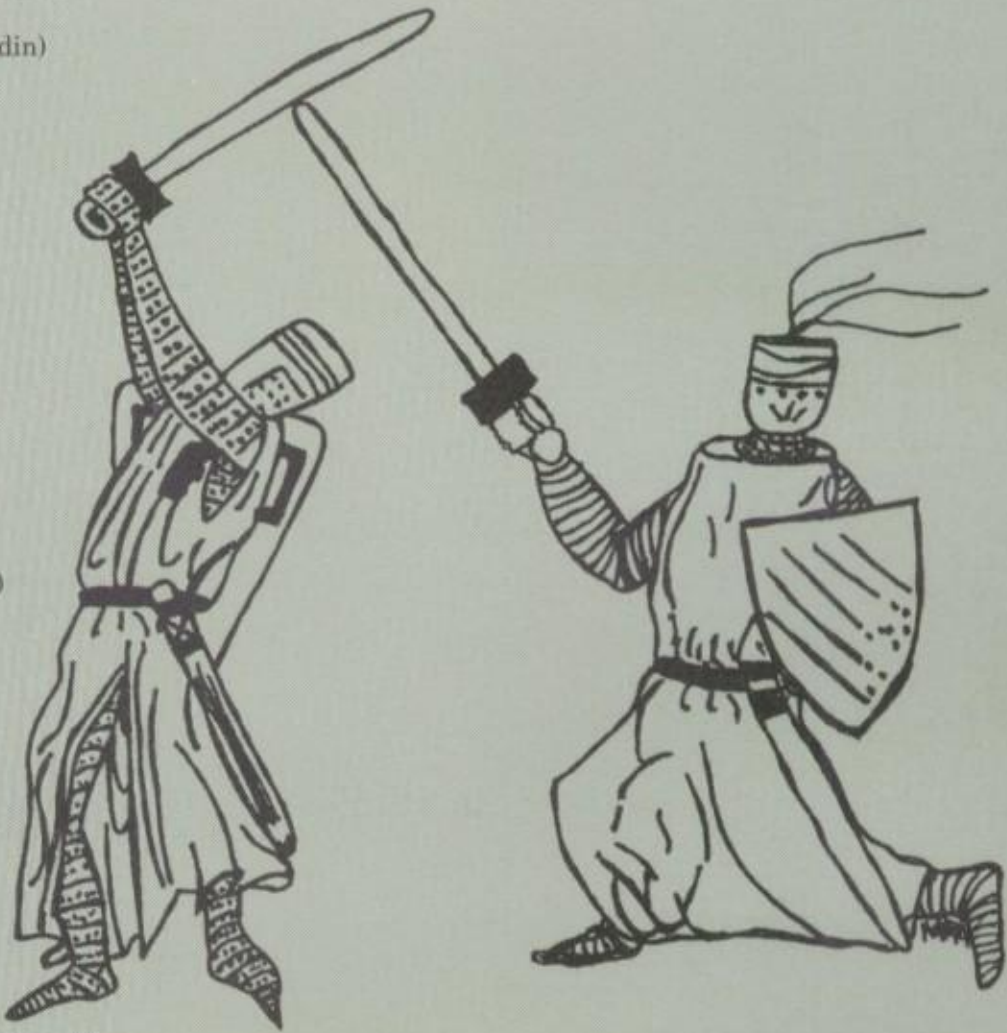

(Twain)

If you come here thinking you are the big I AM, you learn fast there is no big I AM. You have to grow with success, not swell with it.

(Temple)

The art of living is like wrestling ...

(Antonius)

Handy guide to the modern sciences:
If it's green or wiggles, it's BIOLOGY.
If it stinks, it's CHEMISTRY.
If it doesn't work, it's PHYSICS.

A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.

(Adams)

A teacher who can arouse a feeling for one single good action, for one single poem, accomplishes more than he who fills our memory with rows of natural objects, classified with name and form.

(Goethe)

A smile in the classroom is meaningful when — you know you've been understood.

Economics is like being lost in the woods. How can you tell where you are going when you don't even know where you are?

Education is what you have left over after you have forgotten everything you have learned.

Education is an admirable thing, but it is well to remember from time to time that nothing worth knowing can be taught.

(Wilde)

Teaching as a job, does not require anything. If it is to be a profession, practiced with dedication, it requires characteristics few possess. Its rewards are not measured in dollars and cents, and the results are not always seen immediately. When the results do come, they are well worth the time and energies involved.

Experience is a hard teacher. She tests first and teaches afterward.

Scientists are peeping toms at the keyhole of eternity.

(Koestler)

I have faith in the youth I know as they are the world's future, and I want them to be well prepared for it.

Franklin High School had a new addition to the curriculum this year. Computer classes were offered as a nine-week course to any student who had a study hall during the year. The classes ranged from Basic Programming to Advanced Computers. The purchase of the computers was made possible through grants and funding from the federal government. Our school is equipped with fifteen computer stations and two disk-drive host stations.

During the first two periods of the day, Middle School had use of the computer room. All eighth grade students were required to take the class for a six-week period, and there were twenty to twenty-five students per class. Mr. Amon and Mr. Morford were the instructors for this course.

The high school used the computer room from the third period to seventh period, and the teachers were Mr. Kolojejchic, Mr. Proper, and Mr. Ungren. The classes were for beginning, intermediate, and advanced computer students who worked at their own pace.

In the future our school hopes to expand the computer program to accomodate all qualified students who are interested in this field.

I would like to thank the following people for their help throughout the year: Mrs. Carol Orr, without whom this book would not exist; Tom Chaffee for his guidance; Jack Mays and the News Herald for their pictures; Ed at the camera shop for his photographic advice; Mr. Sapala and his merchandising staff for "keeping an eye on the money"; Michelle Adams for her fantastic artwork; the faculty for writing never-ending passes to Mrs. Orr's room; DeBarge and Rick Springfield for waking us up each morning; and Boy George for causing near riots. Most of all, thank you for allowing us to share with you our memories of F.H.S.
